Vote for Some Enterprising Young Man or Woman.

CONTEST WAGING HOT.

Candidates for Free Scholarships in the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa., Bustling Bard.

What are you doing toward aiding some deserving man or woman to obtain an education? It costs you no money. Just fill out the coupon found on page 2 of The Omaha Bee in the name of some friend every day until the close, December 3, and thereby be doing some one a good turn.

Many men and wemen feel the want of a better education, who cannot afford the time or money to go away to some big college hundreds of miles away from home, but who are ambitious enough to devote some of their spare time studying at home.

There are no textbooks or experimental outfits to buy with the ten free scholarships to be given away by The Omaha Bee. Each scholarship is complete in itself. See the window display at the Continental clothing store Fifteenth and Douglas streets, and be convinced. After investigating the merits of these scholarships possibly you will be a contestant yourself. Try it; it does not cost you anything.

When subscribing for The Bee see to it that your subscription is voted to some enterprising, ambitious young man or woman. All successful men must study. Do you know of any better method than that taught by the International Correspondence schools of Scranton, Penn., the largest educational institution in the world?

B. W. Reynolds of Hastings, Neb., enters the race today with a big vote and says that although he is living in a small city in the interior of the state he is going to lead. What do you Omaha contestants have to say about it? Following in the score to date:

BERGERS' CASE IN COURT

Effort Making to Ascertain Something of His Relations with Mrs. Benn.

Judge Vinsonhaler and a crowd of interested witnesses and speciators are involved in the preliminary hearing of the case of the state against John W. Bergers and Mrs. Maude Bean. Bergers is a local chattel mortgage broker and his copartner in the embarrassment attending the proceedings is the wife of Irwin O. Beau, assistant manager of a Council Bluffs implement establishment. Both Bean and wife are relatives of the manager of the Counell Bluffs concern, and up to the inauguration of her alleged relations with Bergers. Mrs. Bean had always borne an unblem-ished reputation. Bergers and Mrs. Bean Bergers' rooms in the Davidge block.

first being a Mrs. Clara Merritt, who, during the last summer kept house in a furnished cottage at 1318 Georgia avenue. which was inhabited by Bergers, an associate of his named W. A. Bentley, Mrs. Bean, Mrs. Merritt and her daughter Blanche, the latter two being present in the capacity of housekeepers. The testimony of Mrs. Merritt and her daughter was to the effect that Bergers and Bentley were jointly interested in the proprietorship of e establishment and that Bergers and Mrs. Bean alternated in ordering the groceries, which were charged up against Bergers. The witness said that Mr. Bergers and Mrs. Bean went riding almost every evening, but occupied different apartments at the house. Mrs. Bean, when she came to the house with Bergers had been introduced as Miss Johnson, but in about a week she told them that her name was Mrs. Bean and that she had separated from her husband because he had associated with other women.

Lester Wavra, a clerk in a grocery store on Park avenue, told of Mrs. Bean ordering greceries of him and how he had called her Mrs. Bergers several times without Grand Saturday evening, November 3, at any correction from her, once in the presto the stere. Harvey Jewell, who had been other important business will come before employed in Bergers' office and whose place was taken by Mrs. Bean, testified that during the three days he remnined after she came she had occupied his desk and had maintained, so far as he knew, the same relations to Bergers as had the wit-

During the afternoon a number of witnesses were examined and it was shown that Bergers still occupies a room rented from Mr. Bean's mother, but nothing was brought out of a character sufficiently pos-Itive to lead Judge Vinsonhaler to bind the accused over and they were discharged.

Court Notes.

Beede B. Reed was given a decree of di-vorce from Robert H. Reed by Judge Fawcett yesterday. A decree of divorce has been filed in the suit of Mary A. Sanborn against Charles W. Sanborn, the decree being based upon the default of the defendant and charges of Pearl M. Grate has sued the Omaha Street Railway company for $5.000 for injuries alleged to have been sustained September 3 last at Twentieth and Leavenworth streets in alghting from a car, which started just as she stepped off and threw her violently to the pavement.

Charles E Walters & Co, have brought suit against the New Amsterdam Casualty company to recover a $900 fee and $85.25 expenses incurred in securing license from the state auditor to enable the defendant to do business in Nebraska. Nelson C. Pratt and Edward M. Wellman sue the same company for $1.500 attorney fees for counsel rendered in the same behalf.

In a suit brought by Arthur C. Daven-counsel rendered in the same behalf.

In a suit brought by Arthur C. Davenport and others to restrain the collection of paving taxes, Judge Keysor has handed down a decision knecking out the tax levied for the paving of Twenty-fifth street, between L and M and between O and Q streets in South Omaha. This street was paved with Colorado sandstone and the decision is based upon the irregularity of the paving and the equalization of the taxes imposed.

Joseph Bundy has brought suit and the coloradors.

Joseph Bundy has brought suit against the Omaha Packing company for $10,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained June 30 last in falling into a catch basin of boiling water while he was traversing a ten-inch plank across the top of it and skimming the grease from the top of the water. He alleges that he was inexperienced, that the board was not the most modern appliance for that work and that it became slippery, allowing him to slip and fall into the water.

The second picture of the series that will compose the Creighton-Orpheum album of celebrities will be given to all the women, who attend the source matters women who attend the souvenir matince Saturday. The subject selected is the beautiful face of the "Girl with the Auburn Hair." This week's bill is pleasing everybody and drawing big crowds. The matinee audience yesterday was brightest of the season, the red-headed girls responded to Miss "Auburn's" invitation and attended in large numbers. It was almost a crimson success. The long-heralded comic opera extravaganza, "The Burgomaster," opens at Boyd's tonight for an engagement that terminates with the week. The piece has had a most phenomenal run since its opening at Chicago last summer. It ran for 300 nights at the Dearborn theater in Chicago, a record that no show of its kind holds in the Windy City with the exception of the Henderson extravaganza some years ago. Harry Davenport, who has an excellent reputation in comic opera will be seen in the role of the burgomaster. William Riley Hatch, well known here from his connection with local stock opera company, sings the baritone roles, and W. R. Peters, at one time stage manager for the Woodward Stock company, is one of the comedians. The company numbers seventy-five people.

The Temple Quartet Concert company of Boston, Mass., will open the Young Men's Christian association entertainment course at Boyd's theater Thursday might, November 8.

The quartet consists of such well known dingers as: E. E. Bullock, first tenor; E. Webber, second tenor; Robert Bruce, first base, and B. G. Willard, second bass, who are equal if not superior to any male quartet in the country.

Miss Burnett, who remains as their render for the third season, is pronounced were arrested some time ago in a night also a charming personality that wins her has she marked dramatic ability, but has raid by the sheriff and his deputies upon audiences. This concert will be quite popular, as it appeals to all classes of people.

Several witnesses were examined the Two hundred and fifty reserved seats wil be put on sale at the Association building Saturday morning, Novemat 8 o'clock; all the other reserved seats in the theater having been sold for the entire course.

Harry Morris' "Twentieth Century Maids" are making a big hit at Miaco's Trocadero this week. The house is crowded at every performance and this phenomenal run of business bids fair to be duplicated next week when T. W. Dinkins' "Vagabond Burlesquera" come to Miaco's Trocadero for a full week's engagement. They will be gin with a Sunday matinee. Manager Rosenthal has arranged for a special wire to announce election returns and bulletins will be read from the stage as fast as they are received. "The Vagabonds" give one of the most elaborate productions ever seen on any stage. The engagement of the "Twentleth Century Maids" closes with a matinee Saturday. Notice to Traveling Men. There will a meeting of the McKinley-Recosevelt Traveling Men's club at the Her 7:30 o'clock to make arrangements to parence of Bergers, who had accompanied her ticipate in Monday night's parade and J. L. HOUSTON, President. J. M. BUCK, Secretary.

PRINTERS DO BIG BUSINESS Official Ballots Are Too Big for Conn-try Offices to Handle This Year. "I am glad the campaign is so near over," remarked one of the city salesmen of a local job printing office yesterday. "For the last week I have been nearly worked to death, and the worst of it is the work I have been doing is that which I have always considered fun heretofore. The large size of the official ballots and the short time in which the printer has to get them out has driven a large num-ber of the country offices out of the trade and the county clerks are thrown upon Omaha, Lincoln and Stoux City to secure the necessary tickets for the election.

"The offices at Lincoln which can handle the work contracted to their full capacity early in the campaign, very little of the work is going to Sioux City, as that is out of the state, and therefore the Omaha printers are hustling for orders which are being placed by a majority of the county clerks of the state. As a result the city solicitors of the different houses have been detailed as committees on reception and entertainment. Many of the county clerks are royal fellows and it has been my duty to keep pace with them and land them when they were ready to make their orders. For a few days it was fun; then it became tiresome, and if this business was to keep up a week longer somebody else would have to take my place on the entertainment committee. But the result repaid the work. We have a larger number of orders than
